| REFERENCES A. EGOA 5821, 23 July 1959 B. PROB 4860 1. The question raised in reference A concerning Subject's becoming privy to KUBARK methods and requirements in the optics field is now academic. Upon closer inspection we have found the need for such operational assistance was a temporary one which was met by existing KUBARK facilities. 2. Subject has been seen by an FOB case officer who has found him basically receptive to American social overtures. He is keenly aware of the East West struggle and his unsolicited comments on the political scene appear to spring from a solidly pro-Western background; we too are keenly aware that this does not always add up to a successful recruitment but feel the post-war sustenance provided by the CARE packages mentioned in reference B may incline him to accept recruitment. An approach to Subject to serve as a CABATON agent will be made within two weeks. | | | |
